Decision upholds land annexation; appeal uncertain now

The Texas Education Commissioner upheld Wednesday a decision allowing 160 acres of development land in South Amarillo to be attached to the Amarillo School District.

Alton Bowen, deputy education commissioner, announced Wednesday morning the commissioner's decision to allow the November 1974 decision of the Randall County Board of School Trustees to stand.

Local school officials could not say Wednesday morning whether they will appeal the commissioner's decision to the Texas Board of Education.

The decision from the state's education executive had been awaited for nine months.

Bowen said Texas Education Agency attornies "found no reversible error in their (the Randall County board) proceedings."

The local board had voted 3-2 a year ago to allow the 160-acre Glendale subdivision in South Amarillo to be detached from the Canyon school district and annexed to the Amarillo school district.

Canyon school board had appealed that decision to the education commissioner, hoping for a reversal. They argued their case through a long-time Austin school attorney and local attorney Elton Cox during a seven-hour hearing before Bowen in late January 1975.

The Canyon board, since the decision is adverse to its position, has the right to appeal the commissioner's decision to the Texas Board of Education.

But, Supt. Jerry Jacobs was unsure what course the board might take in view of a recent statement by School Financial Advisor Bob Davis of Columbian Securities that a continuation of the controversy could stall indefinitely the ability of the local district to float a bond issue to build new schools.

"I don't know," Jacobs said following the Wednesday announcement of the decision. "I'll have to get all my bosses together and see what they think" about an appeal.

Jacobs conceded that the Davis opinion on the bond issue could weigh heavily in the decision by the Canyon board on whether or not to appeal the commissioner's ruling.

"That's something to take into consideration," he said. "The time factor will have to be a point of consideration rather than postpone a bond issue."

Canyon School Board President Tom Keeling said the Davis' opinion might have some impact on the school board's decision on an appeal. But, he said it might work out that an appeal could be had before a bond issue date.

Keeling said the matter of an appeal would be for the whole board to decide.

Board Members Roscoe Richardson, Richard Pruett, Walter Graham, Dr. Dudley Moore and Harold Erwin could not be reached for comment Wednesday.

School Attorney Cox said he, too, would have to await a meeting of the school board to determine whether an appeal should be pursued of the decision.

"If it's appealed to the next step it's only logical that it would be appealed to the district court and that constitutes litigation," Cox said, referring to Davis' contention that the state attorney general will not okay a bond issue if the school district is involved in litigation over school boundaries.

Davis issued his opinion after conferring with Dallas bond attornies about a month ago. The local school board has tentatively talked about calling a bond election in November to issue between $5 million and $6 million in bonds for construction of new schools here.

Cox said, though, he's not sure he agrees with the bond attornies on their definition of the word "litigation."

Nevertheless, he said, "if the

Electric bills could follow

Higher gas bills expected this winter

Budget-minded Canyon families would be well advised to brace for home fuel costs to be higher this winter than they were last winter, local energy company officials said this week.

But, they probably won't be experiencing any problems in obtaining the fuel they need to heat their homes.

Bob Mills of Pioneer Corporation, which provides natural gas to homes in the city, said families will be paying more per thousand cubic feet for gas used in their homes this winter than they paid last winter.

Noting that long-range weather forecasts predict a major cold snap around the 15th of October, Mills said the simultaneous need for more gas heat will cause gas bills to jump significantly.

Hikes in the prices Pioneer must pay in the field for gas supplies will be coupled with a new market factor this winter, with the result higher unit prices to consumers here, he said.

Mills said the Federal Power Commission two weeks ago decided to allow major industrial gas users to bargain directly with gas producers in the field for gas with no ceiling price imposed.

For example, he said, Dow Chemical is a major competitor with Pioneer for gas produced in the West Texas area and the industrial giant will pay whatever it must pay to obtain gas.

Mills said if the price for gas in the field is driven upward by this new competitive force, the price for gas will be passed on to the consumer by Pioneer.

The gas company and the electric company in Canyon are allowed to pass increases in the cost of gas in the field straight to local customers through a cost-of-gas adjustment clause in their city franchise.

While the regular rate for gas will remain static for the winter, Mills said the cost-of-gas adjustment could fluctuate.

Since Jan. 1, 1974 the price of a thousand cubic feet of gas has increased through the cost-of-gas adjustment clause from 23.32 cents to 79.46 cents in August 1975. That's a 243 per cent increase in the price Pioneer must pay in the field, the cost which is passed directly to customers.

Since Jan. 1, 1975, the cost of gas has risen from 51.56 cents per thousand cubic feet to the 79.46 cents per thousand cubic feet level in August.

Even though the fuel for home heating may be higher for the winter, Mills said local consumers will have no trouble getting all the gas they need for their own use.

He said Pioneer anticipates no problems with availability of gas this winter and has made acquisition of better supplies than were available last year.

Joe Gidden, local manager for Southwestern Public Service Co., which supplies electricity for residences, said electric rates will also be affected by a similar cost-of-gas adjustment which is passed through to the electric company by Pioneer and other gas suppliers.

The electric company uses natural gas to generate electricity.

School bond recommendation readied for final okay tonight

Leaders of the ad hoc Committee for Sound School Finance will propose tonight the committee vote to recommend to the Canyon School Board that a bond election be called to build two new schools in the north part of the school district.

The subcommittee chairmen met with over-all chairman Jay Wooten Tuesday night to hammer out six recommendations which will be considered at 7:30 p.m. today at the school administration building by the entire committee.

Three of the proposed recommendations have already been approved by the committee.

Three of the proposed recommendations have already been approved by the committee.

Ten committee leaders, about a third of the whole committee, met Tuesday night with Wooten to go over recommendations they hope will end their work of the past month and a half.

The committee was established in August by the school board to study ways to finance needed new facilities for expanding Canyon school populations.

The chairman voted to recommend tonight for approval the following six reconmendations, which if okayed will be transmited to the school board:

*That the board of education of the CISD proceed with plans to build a new high school facility in the northern part of the district on land already owned by the district, and a new elementary school in the northern part of the district on a site to be selected by the board on the basis of student population density and growth trends.

*That the board of education of the CISD submit to voters a bond issue to finance the building and equipping of the new high school and elementary school.

*That the tax office of CISD revise property assessment formulas to current market

Paul Glovier, chairman of the building committee for the Canyon Senior Citizens Association, has been at work along with other committee members during the past few weeks sprucing up and remodeling the old First Christian church building here for use as a senior citizens center. The association recently purchased the building through donations from local citizens.

Tax statements sent taxpayers

Canyon area property owners can expect to receive this week and next statements for increased taxes to support various governmental units over the next year.

Tax statements totalling about $3.1 million went out this week from the Randall County tax office and the School-City tax office in Canyon.

The total taxes sought by all governmental units for the year are up about $600,000 over the 1974 total tax rolls.

Three governmental units in Canyon hiked taxes this year and the hikes are reflected in the tax statements which are now in the mail.

Mrs. Audrey Bruse, county tax collector-assessor, has mailed out statements to collect $1,402,532 in local taxes. Of that total, $1,102,302 will be collected for the financing of county government and the remainder is collected by the county office for the Bushland School District, the High Plains Water District, the South Randall County Hospital

Spanish experts, ballots required

Even though census figures indicate Randall County has a Spanish-speaking population of less than 5 per cent, county voting officials have been told they must provide interpreters and Spanish-language voting materials at the polls Nov. 4.

County Clerk LeRoy Hutton said Monday he received a written directive Monday from Secretary of State Mark White informing him that Randall County will be required by the U. S. Dept. of Justice to comply with a new federal law making Spanish-language ballots and interpreters mandatory at the polls.

A recently-passed state law requires that counties in which more than 5 per cent of the population is of Spanish heritage or origin must produce ballot materials in both English and Spanish.

But, according to the letter from White, the federal justice department has decided that any county with as few as 250 Spanish-heritage persons must

Dynamite blast damages house, resident says

BY LAURIE TELFAIR

Dynamite blasting in a caliche pit near his home is shaking the nails from the walls, a homeowner charges, and he wants it stopped.

Clayton Freeman, who lives west of Canyon near the Lindsey pit, has retained an attorney to press his case, after he said the excavating firm failed to take any action on his complaints.

However, Jake Diel, owner of Jake Diel Dirt and Paving Contractors, Inc., said his firm did investigate and concluded that the blasts could not cause structural damage.

"When we got the complaints, we had the inspectors from our insuring firm out there," Diel said. "They took all their instruments and gauges and went through it very carefully and they contend that there's no possibility of our blasts causing the damage."

"They're blasting me out," Freeman said Tuesday. The blasts are causing the nails to loosen in the walls, he said.

"The nails in the sheetrock are pushing out of the wall and the percussion is pushing the three-quarters of an inch shingles on the outside outward, causing the nails to loosen," Freeman said. Walks are cracking and he has had a gas line break since the blasting started in June, he said. About six families live in the area, he said, and all have suffered some damage.

"I don't know if it is all due to the dynamiting," he said, "but I don't think it would have happened without it."

Diel compared the problem to complaints to sonic booms.

"A person who is not knowledgeable sees an airplane and hears a sonic boom and then notices a crack in his garage door. He assumes the crack was caused by the boom," Diel said. "It's the same sort of thing here."

Blasting is carefully controlled, Diel said, with every shot logged with the time and amount of charge noted.

Freeman said that when the blasting first began, the charges were not as powerful.

"You could live with it," he said.

They increased in force and after he complained, he said he was told that the charges would be reduced and split into two smaller blasts. This was done for a day, he said and then the firm returned to using the larger more powerful blasts.

After consulting a lawyer Friday, Freeman is waiting.

"I've written a letter to them and asked them to talk to me about it," Canyon attorney Jim Brown said. "And if they don't, we'll just have to see about it."

Diel said his firm was con-

Caballero won't appeal--attorney

Attorney for Dr. Emilio Caballero, hospitalized late Sunday after a 2½-day hearing at West Texas State University, said this week he will urge his client not to appeal the hearing committee's decision.

"I'm not going to let him appeal," Goerge Whittenburg of Amarillo said. "The best thing to do for his health is to get the matter closed as soon as possible."

Whittenburg had declined to allow Caballero to testify in his own behalf late Friday during the hearing, called to review an administrative decision to remove Caballero as head of the university art department.

The hearing committee, headed by Dr. Charles Smallwood, dean of the School of Agriculture, issued about 6:45 p.m. Saturday a decision on the hearing supporting University President Lloyd I. Watkins and affirming Watkins' decision to remove Caballero.

Whittenburg indicated he feels it would not be in the best interests of Caballero's health to prolong the controversy, which has raged at the campus since Caballero first resigned in January 1975.

Caballero was taken by ambulance to Northwest Texas Hospital about 11 p.m. Sunday, suffering what might or might not be a heart attack. He had suffered a heart attack recently.

Although Caballero, well-known in the area for his watercolors

Treasurer vows abolition efforts

If Texas voters adopt a new local government provision in their Nov. 4 constitutional amendment balloting, Randall County Treasurer Bob McClendon says he'll give local voters a chance to abolish his office.

"If it passes," he said this week, "I'll present it to the citizens of Randall County."

McClendon, who ran for treasurer in 1974 on a platform calling for abolition of his office, said he probably won't actively campaign for the passage of that proposal on the Nov. 4 ballot which contains Article IX Local Government.

Randall County commissioners are currently considering passage of a resolution asking voters here to turn down all proposals for constitutional change on the November ballot.

McClendon said the Local Government article of the proposed constitution would allow local voters to decide for themselves whether his office should be abolished.

He favors the passage of the article.

McClendon went to Austin last spring to urge state legislators to adopt a constitutional amendment abolishing the office of county

Farm Homes Susceptible As Burglaries Increase

Farms and ranches are easy marks for a determined thief who likes the idea that there's usually no one around for miles to catch him in the act, says Sheriff Cliff Longest.

Longest, concerned about a recent rash of more than a dozen rural farm home burglaries in the county, has launched a new Operation Identification program designed specifically for rural areas.

The emphasis is on reducing the burglary rate through a marking program both of personal items and farm equipment and machinery.

Since late August, about 15 farm homes have been hit by what Longest believes to be a ring of thieves. Most of the homes have been north of Canyon.

While traditional crime prevention efforts have been directed toward urban areas, the new Operation Identification program is designed for rural areas, Longest said.

"Farms and ranches present a big burglary and theft risk because equipment is very valuable, and the criminal can move about easily with no one around for miles," Longest said.

Operation Identification helps farmers and ranchers discourage thefts by marking their gear, their equipment, their outbuildings and their machinery for identification.

"Riding gear such as saddles, bridles and spurs are prime targets for thieves because they're easy to carry off," Longest said.

Recent burglar victims in rural areas have reported the theft of household appliances, too.

"Not all items on a farm or ranch can be locked up," he said. "Tools, tractors, pumps, implements and riding gear need to be protected from thieves by a system of permanent identification, sort of like branding cattle," he said.

To implement Operation Identification in the rural areas, Longest has available several metal engravers and also large metal signs warning potential thieves that the farm is protected by Operation Identification.

Each individual farmer is asked to mark his possessions with his Texas driver's license number, using the TX prefix. Then he should display warning signs around his property saying his valuables are protected.

Stolen items, if found by officers, can be easily identified and returned to the owner, if so marked.

"We know it takes time and trouble to mark everything you value, including household items as well as tools, machinery, riding gear and equipment," Longest said. "But we also know Operation Identification works, because the opportunity for easy disposal of the stolen items is reduced."

Further information on the program is available from the sheriff's office.

Two heart-attack victims, Gort Rushmer, second from left, and Roland Black, right, present checks to Robert Lindsey, center, who has pledged to ride 10 miles Saturday in the local Heart Fund cyclethon. Rushmer, photography instructor at West Texas State University, had a heart attack last March and Black, chamber of commerce manager, has suffered two serious heart attacks in recent years. Don Johnson, left, will present the bicycle shown to the cyclethon participant who raises the most money for the Heart Fund this year. Johnson is owner of the Western Auto associate store here.

FNB Open House Sunday For Completed Expansion

Don Max Vars, president of First National Bank in Canyon, has announced plans for an open house to show the completion of the remodeling of the facilities in its building.

The general public is invited to the open house from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. on Sunday, October 5, 1975.

Guides will be available as visitors tour throughout the bank and refreshments will also be served.

The major phase of the construction was the remodeling of the bank's basement. The remodeling included construction of a stairway entrance to the basement floor from the south end of the bank and construction of two offices, a board of directors room, a coffee room and a large combination recreation and community room.

The main floor of the bank lobby was reconstructed to provide one additional office and a new office for the commercial loan department.

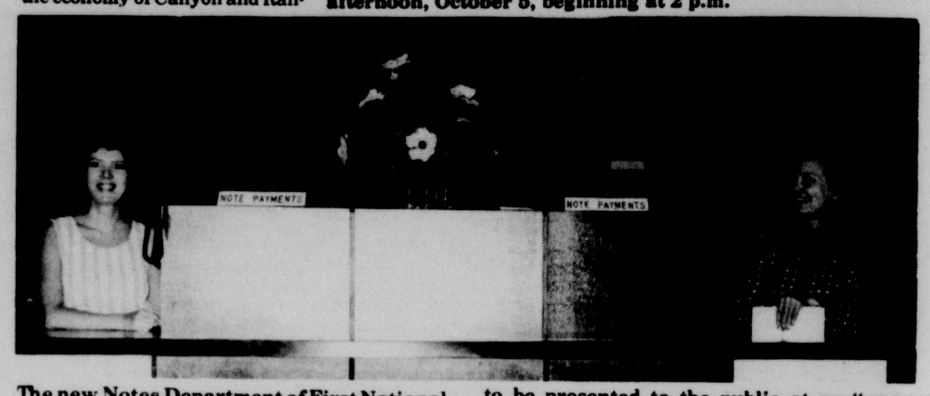
This is the first remodeling of the bank since its construction in 1966 at the bank site on Fourth Avenue and Fourteenth Street, Canyon.

Vars stated that "this remodeling of our bank building at this time vividly demonstrates the complete confidence we have in the economy of Canyon and Randall County."

The First National Bank in Canyon ranks fourth in deposits in the Amarillo-Canyon area and has experienced a large increase in deposits during the first half of this year. The June 30 statement of condition showed deposits of $31,086,789.41 which was up $5 million over the December 31, 1974, statement of 25,931,214.

Vars attributed the growth to the bank's effort to continually improve and up-date its services. He cited the bank's recent initiation of Individual Retirement Accounts (I.R.A.) as an example. The First National Bank in Canyon is one of the first banks in the area to offer this service. Persons who establish an I.R.A. can contribute up to 15 percent of their gross income to a maximum of $1,500 and deduct the total amount deposited from their gross income even if they do not itemize deductions.

Taking a break in the kitchen area of the First National Banks newly opened basement area is Debbie Phillips of the banking staff. She and other bank personnel will be conducting guided tours of the bank's newly opened areas at open house Sunday afternoon, October 5, beginning at 2 p.m.



The new Notes Department of First National Bank in Canyon occupies the space formerly used as the community room at ground level and will be among the new areas of the bank to be presented to the public at an "open house" on Sunday afternoon, October 5, from 2-4 p.m. Bank personnel pictured are Tanya Hold and Sylvia Brown, right.

Cyclethon Pedalers To Ride Saturday

Cyclethon riders will leave the courthouse square at 9 a.m. on Saturday for a ten-mile round trip effort to raise funds for the Randall County Unit of the American Heart Association.

The cyclethon riders may pedal farther if desired, according to the unit chairman. Categories will be the elementary, junior high school students, high school and college and adults with prizes to be awarded in each category to the cyclethon rider collecting the most funds for the effort.

Cycle riders will be responsible to have their own individual and business sponsors prior to the ride. Entry blanks are available at each of the public schools and at the Activities Center of West Texas State University.

Prizes awaiting the bike riders are a Western Flyer bicycle from Western Auto of Canyon for the elementary category; a John Deere bicycle for the junior high section from Texas Tractor Company in Amarillo; a citizens band radio from CB Center midway between Amarillo-Canyon for the high school-college age riding section; and a 100-pound beef package from Happy Hereford Ranch for the adult division.

School Out Here Friday

Friday will be a holiday for students of the Canyon Independent School District while their teachers are involved for the day at in-service training and workshops from 8:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.

Elementary teachers will have a workshop with Houghton Mifflin, Publishers and the secondary teachers will be involved in curriculum improvements and have departmental meetings during the afternoon.

Senior Citizens Invited To Event

Amarillo Retired Teachers Association invites all senior citizens of Potter and Randall Counties to attend a games party on Saturday, October 4, from 9:00 to 11:45 a.m. in the Band Room of the Amarillo Senior Citizens Association Center.

Each group of four should bring a card table and dominoes or cards. Each person is asked to bring a dozen cookies. Admission will be 50 cents and tickets will be available at the door.

News Errs

The News erred last Sunday in an editorial concerning the need for improvements on Lamont Street in the Gene Howe area of the county.

It was erroneously reported that a portion of Lamont Street lies outside the city limits of Amarillo and is therefore the responsibility of Randall County commissioners. In fact, Amarillo officials say, Lamont Street lies wholly within the city limits.

County Okays Computer Bookkeeping

Randall County commissioners adopted one change suggested by their outside auditor Monday and are expected to consider another change in fiscal operations before the first of the year.

Commissioners voted to allow the county bookkeeping system to be placed on computer by the outside auditing firm of Doshier, Pickens and Francis of Amarillo.

They are to consider before Jan. 1, the possible reshuffling of their fiscal year which is now the calendar year.

The change adopted during commissioners court Monday will free Mrs. Betty Hodges, county auditor, from bookkeeping chores and should forestall the need to hire another worker for her office.

During a commission session a week ago, Mrs. Hodges said the computerization of the books would free her to perform duties prescribed for internal county auditors, duties she has had to forego to keep books.

The outside auditing firm suggested the change to free Mrs. Hodges to perform true auditing duties.

Cost of the computerized bookkeeping system will be 25 cents per item or a minimum of $150 per month, she said, with the anticipated expenditure not to be over the minimum fee.

The Amarillo firm has also suggested commissioners change their fiscal year from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31 to Oct. 1 to Sept. 30.

County Judge Woody Pond told The News following Monday's session the commissioners can resolve to change the fiscal year at any time before the 1976 fiscal year is to begin.

Commissioners have already passed a budget for the fiscal year beginning Jan. 1, 1976.

Pond said the primary advantage of the new fiscal year system is that it allows the county to begin receiving money for current year operations immediately after the fiscal year begins.

In other business Monday, commissioners approved a contract between the county tax office and the City of Amarillo for Amarillo to provide up-to-date tax information to the county office.

Mrs. Audrey Bruse, county tax assessor, told commissioners the price for the tax information from Amarillo will rise from $13,002 charged in 1975 to $14,230 for the next year.

She said she was told by Amarillo officials the hike in price was necessitated by the hike in the cost-of-living index.

Through the contract, the City provides the county with all new construction, reappraisals, new accounts and any other change within the city limits of Amarillo in Randall County.

Commissioner Jim Fletcher said if the city charges its rates based on the inflation rate, the county should, on its contracts with the city, hike rates commensurately.

Commissioners tabled until Commissioner Paul Lindsey returns from a trip to the East Coast discussion of a proposed resolution opposing the constitutional amendment proposals on the Nov. 4 election ballot.

They had tabled the same resolution, authored by Pond, last week until Lindsey and John Fulgenzi could study the proposed changes.

Commissioners discussed briefly applying for federal funds to stripe about 50 miles of county road. A resolution for the striping project and to seek funding for new road signs will be considered at the next court meeting.

Community Education Begins

By KAROLYN FARMER

COMMUNITY EDUCATION CLASSES began meeting this week at Gene Howe, as well as in the other schools in the Canyon Independent School District.

This is really a valuable opportunity for all of us to work and learn together. And I hope if you haven't already made plans to attend one of the classes, that you will do so today.

Troyce Mulherin will be serving as an instructor for the Arts and Crafts Class to be held on Thursday evenings, lasting for ten weeks. If you're not able to attend the first meeting on Thursday, Oct. 2, but would like to join in next week, be sure to call Troyce. Unless a minimum number enroll in each of the classes, they will have to be canceled.

Troyce and her students will be working on several interesting things, including macrame and "fony" flowers. It will be a great chance to get some "goodies" made for Christmas giving.

Also, Troyce says if you miss the first meeting, you'll be able to catch up next week.

So whether you plan to take advantage of the Arts and Crafts class or one of the other courses offered, be sure to support this program in our schools.

DR. MARIAN GILES, who is on the staff of Texas Tech University, spoke at a workshop for the Gene Howe teachers last Friday morning.

Dr. Giles' main emphasis was on identifying children with learning problems and the methods and materials that can be used to teach these children.

Mr. Lawless and all of our teachers were really impressed by Dr. Giles' enthusiasm and are looking forward to further meetings with her in the coming school year.

She also has many ideas which the teachers will be able to implement in teaching the children on all levels of learning.

SHAY BOWLING, WHO is in Mrs. Woodward's third grade class, is one of the many new students at Gene Howe. Shay is the son of Kerry and Janet Bowling, and also has a little sister, Ashley, who is four years old.

The Bowlings are new residents of Estacado Estates and moved to our area only two weeks ago from Arlington. However, both Janet and Kerry are natives of Phillips.

Kerry Bowling is the owner and operator of Medic Rents & Sales, which officially opened for business yesterday, October 1. The Bowling's company will handle wheelchairs, crutches, hospital beds, and all other kinds of medical-related equipment. Their store is located in the Fleetwood Shopping Center in Amarillo.

Prior to opening his own business, Kerry has worked for a number of years as a hospital equipment sales representatives.

The Bowling family's hobbies include riding bikes and swimming.

Jay Knight was to return home from the hospital this past Tuesday, following his serious accident near the school last week. Of course it really was a tragic occurrence; and all of us have been drawn much closer together this past week over our concern for Jay, his family and all the others involved.

We'll continue to keep you posted on Jay's condition. And certainly we all wish him a speedy and complete recovery.

NANCY ROTHS' SECOND graders are getting into the Halloween spirit early this year. As I entered their room this week, I found Paula Lucich putting the finishing touches on a scary looking black cat.

Rob Bulla, Danny Pope and Ricky Winters had found some interesting books to look at while reclining on the rug in the book corner. Mrs. Roth and several of her students were sitting in the reading circle, concentrating particularly on their vowel sounds as they read.

The "almost full" calendar for September featured a big, bright clown with balloons for each day of the month. Another display in the room featured gayly colored flowers and butterflies.

I was particularly interested in the reading chart with each child's name followed by a star for each book he had read. Nancy Roth obviously wastes no time in encouraging her children to read.

Nancy told me that the children had been studying about the differences in country life and city life, as well as the differences between modern and Early American cultures.

Placed on one wall were the children's first watercolor pictures of the year. Willie Lee chose to paint a picture of his home, while Clifford Carter painted a big red ship. Nancy said the children really loved working with watercolors and are anxious to try it again.

Judy Bernier had also displayed her artistic talents on her work folder, which featured a big ice cream cone with the words, "Yum, Yum" written beside it.

Wesley Groves was math champion in Mrs. Roth's room last week. Natalie Gillespie is the newest student in the class, having enrolled in Gene Howe on Monday. Natalie has been attending Pleasant Valley School in Amarillo.

One of the most interesting things in Mrs. Roth's room are the "mail boxes" labeled with each child's name. The children put their papers in their boxes at the end of the day. After Mrs. Roth grades them, the "Elf" of the week then returns the papers to the mail boxes, and the children pick up their "mail."

Another of Nancy Roth's innovative ideas is the spelling list which the children take home with them each Monday. Along with their regular spelling words, the children are given a Bicentennial word to study—this week the word was "eagle." Nancy said that the list is used by the children as their "ticket" to get out of the door as they leave school on Mondays.

OPEN HOUSE AT Gene Howe for parents of children in the morning kindergarten classes, and Grades 1, 2 and 3 will be held on Monday, Oct. 6 in the school cafeteria.

Parents of children in the afternoon kindergarten classes, and Grades 4, 5 and 6 will attend an Open House on Oct. 13. Both meetings will begin at 7:00 p.m. and all parents are strongly urged to attend.

This is not only a great opportunity to get better acquainted with your child's teacher, but there will also be some special things on the program which will concern every family in the community.

THE GENE HOWE Executive Committee met at the school on Monday, September 29. All of the members of the committee were present. And among items discussed were the budget for this year and the annual Chili Supper which will be held on November 21.

Mrs. Virginia Cotten, who is with the Vocational Director's office of the C.I.S.D. visited the committee meeting and discussed the possibility of a community first aid course to be offered at Gene Howe. You'll be hearing more about this as definite plans are made.

MELINDA YARBROUGH CELEBRATED her 12th birthday with a slumber party last Friday night. (Melinda was officially 12 on Sept. 29.)

Attending the party were Jeanne McDonald, Traci Kimbrough, Teresa Polvadore, Andy Reagan, Denise Tennison, April Gibson, Sharon Mester, Susan Paetzold, Debbie Smith and Renee Judkins.

The girls, who finally went to bed at 5:30 a.m., enjoyed roller skating, swimming, and "papering" Doug Lill's house.

Royal and Chris Yarbrough are Melinda's parents. Chris also told me that Melinda had really come a long way in the last 12 years, considering that she weighed only 3 pounds, 2 ounces when she was born.

VERY IMPORTANT ITEM: You must register before this Saturday at noon to be eligible to vote in the upcoming November election. (That is, if you haven't voted in an election since Oct. 1, 1971, or have never registered to vote in Randall County.)

You may obtain registration forms in the Gene Howe office or at the Tax Offices in Canyon or Amarillo.

Winkelman Rites Held

Funeral services were held Saturday for John Ben Winkelman, 75, of Amarillo, a former Canyon resident.

Dr. John Bridwell of the Amarillo First Christian Church officiated at the ceremonies at the church. Pallbearers were Darrell Leachman, Alec Love, Wayne Roper, M.E. Chrestman, James Whitaker, and Gerald Warwick. Honorary pallbearers were members of Kum Dbl Class, 147th Inf., Co. G. Burial was in Llano Cemetery.

Mr. Winkelman, brother of the late Mrs. Grace Warwick of Canyon, died Sept. 25.

A native of Jefferson, Iowa, he had lived in Amarillo 45 years. He came to Canyon in 1908 and attended West Texas Normal College. He was a veteran of World War I and a retired poultryman.

Mr. Winkelman had been a member of the First Christian Church and the Kum Dbl Sunday School Class.

Survivors include his wife; a son, John Gilbert of Los Angeles; sisters, Mrs. Arthur Taylor of Seattle, Mrs. Grady Richards and Mrs. Audra Winkelman, both of Florence, Ala.; two grandchildren; a niece, Mrs. Jack Haley of Canyon, and a nephew, Gerald Warwick also of Canyon.

Recovering From Gunshot

A man from Happy is recovering in Northwest Texas Hospital from a gunshot wound suffered Monday night at his home.

Milton Sanders, 54, was reported in satisfactory condition Tuesday. According to Bill Andrews, fire chief at Happy, who transported the injured man to the hospital in the fire department ambulance, Sanders was shot through the left hand with a .20 gauge shotgun.

Sanders is believed to have been replacing the gun in a closet after cleaning it, when the weapon discharged, according to Andrews. The incident was investigated by Deputy J.B. Sexton.

Jimmie Carol Glenn says that one of the favorite features in her home is the utility room which is designed with built-in areas for sewing, potting plants, ironing and other duties encountered by a busy homemaker. The Glenn home at 1113 Creekmere will be among city homes on the University Study Club's fall Home Tour October 12.

Glenn's Home On Tour Oct. 12

Four city homes will be open to the public on Sunday afternoon, October 12, from 2-6 p.m. as the annual 'home tour' is sponsored by University Study Club of Canyon.

The home which was planned, designed and constructed under the supervision of Clinton Glenn and his wife, Jimmie Carol, at 1113 Creekmere will be among the four homes presented during tour hours for visitors.

Filled with ingenious idea areas, the home was creatively designed and planned to the last detail by the couple prior to being contracted to the builders, H. Root Company.

Included in the original home plans are features such as indirect lighting throughout the family room which is separated by an angle counter bar from the kitchen area. Cabinetry in the kitchen utilizes space and with such features as roll-out cabinet shelving.

The four-bedroom home features walk-in closets for the bedrooms with separate "his-n-hers" dressing area and spacious walk-in closets in each area of the bath adjacent the master bedroom.

The couple's three children, Brenda, 17, Cheri, 15, and Ross, 13, each have their own bedrooms with adjacent baths. In the basement is a family gameroom which is a "favorite hideout" for the children of the family and is accessible from the center of the house by a spiraling carpeted stairway.

Other features of the Glenn home are the formal living room, an outdoor patio area and the special utility room which features surrounding counter areas for clothes folding, a feed-through clothes bin from the master bath, a convertible sewing table area, a built-in desk and ironing board, and a sink area where Mrs. Glenn spends many hours with her favorite hobby of "potting houseplants." Her husband is a farmer-rancher with land in the northern part of Randall County.

Greeting tour guests at the Glenn home on October 12 will be the hostess committee from University Study Club including Mesdames John Womack, Duane Howard, John Childs, Lee Roy Moreland, Myron Dees, Harold Erwin, Gary Garner, Gilbert Irlbeck and Charles Smallwood.

Other homes on the tour with the Glenn home at 1113 Creekmere this year are the Bob Damon home at 17 Country Club Drive, the Burwell Southern home at #8 Bramblewood Lane, and the Robert Warren home at 1102 Hillcrest Drive.

school (board) fools with it, it will end up in the courts and have a bad effect on a possible bond issue."

Neither Cox nor Jacobs were surprized by the state commissioner's decision.

"I had hopes they would reverse the decision but that's hard to do," Cox said.

"I don't agree with them, but that's understandable," Jacobs said.

Jacobs said he still feels the 160-acre tract under development by Glenn O'Dell is not contiguous to the Amarillo School District boundary line and is therefore illegally detached.

Five families petitioned over two years ago to have the subdivision annexed by the Amarillo district and their petition contained, by their own admission, an incorrect survey of the property. Just before the Randall County trustees voted to allow de-annexation the petitioners presented a new petition, this one with the survey corrected.

Jacobs contends the board acted on the original petition and not the second one and therefore the land in question is not contiguous with the school boundary lines.

The five families which petitioned the county board for de-annexation of the Glendale subdivision contended Amarillo schools were much closer to their homes than were Canyon schools.

Canyon school board attornies argued that a favorable decision allowing de-annexation would set a precedent for other developers inclined to have their property in the Amarillo rather than the Canyon district.

Since the petition was submitted two years ago, several of the families involved in the controversy have moved from the Glendale subdivision.

And, since the county board ruled last November on the case, the complexion of the board itself has changed. One staunch supporter of allowing Amarillo to annex Canyon school lands, Don Marsh, was removed from the board and in his place is another Amarillo man who is said to be more favorably disposed toward the Canyon point of view.

Charles Purcell, outspoken in his opposition to Amarillo annexation of Canyon land and a member of the county school board, said early Wednesday only that "we're setting a precedent."

He had no other comment on the commissioner's decision.

R.B. Gist Jr., chairman of the county board, could not be reached for comment.

The principals in the controversy, those living in the Glendale addition, could not be reached for comment, either.

But, their attorney, Bob Templeton of Amarillo, expressed pleasure in the commissioner's action.

"I think it's great," he said. "I'm glad he upheld the county board."

Templeton said it is his opinion the commissioner's ruling does not set a precedent which might in the future endanger other Canyon school district lands adjacent to the Amarillo district.

"I don't think it does anything but establish that in the facts of this case (de-annexation) was warranted," he said. "I don't think it is a precedent. The county board of trustees will look at each one on its own merits and I would think the Canyon board would look at those matters the same way."

Glendale Developer O'Dell said he's pleased with the decision by the commissioner.

O'Dell said while some original petitioners in the controversy have moved from his addition, others have moved in and lent their support to the five-family fight.

He said had the decision gone the other way — that is, had it been favorable to the Canyon district — the families in the subdivision would have appealed the case to the education board.

Amarillo school district officials, particularly Amarillo Banker Pete Dallas, have said publicly that they feel decision of the county board sets a precedent and have resolved to openly accept any detachment and annexation offers made by developers now in the Canyon district.

Even while awaiting the commissioner's decision on the Glendale property, Canyon board members have been approached by other developers seeking to have property detached from Canyon and annexed by Amarillo.

One developer, Emmett Fuqua of Quien Sabe Investments, who is developing a half-section of land near the Puckett Place addition in Amarillo, has offered the Canyon district $100,000 if the school board will view favorably his request that the property be annexed into the Amarillo district.

Another developer, Richard Reeves, who is developing a section of land just south of the Quien Sabe property west of Coulter Road, has said he will not offer any money in exchange for Canyon board approval.

The board tabled recently action on the Fuqua request, pending a legal investigation by Cox.

SCS Vote Set For Officers

The Palo Duro Soil and Water Conservation District at their regular meeting in September, set the date of October 7, for the election of a director from zone two of the district.

The election will be held at the Farm Bureau building located at 1714 5th Avenue.

To be eligible to vote in the election, a person must own agriculture land within zone two. A husband and wife are eligible to vote.

Zone two is that portion of Randall County lying west of U.S. Highway 87, south of FM Rd. 2219 and north of FM Rd. 1714 and the county line on the west.

Library Meet Sat. At WTSU

Public, school, college, university and private firm librarians from the Panhandle area will meet October 4 at West Texas State University for the Texas Library Association District Meeting.

Dr. Ray Malzahn, WTSU vice president for academic affairs, will welcome the guests. Messages from the association will be presented by Dr. Paul Parham, Texas Christian University librarian of Fort Worth and president-elect of the association.

and enamel art works, was listed in serious condition late Tuesday at the hospital, his wife indicated his condition had improved since Sunday.

"He seems to be better," she said.

A spokesman for the hospital said Caballero had been removed from the intensive care unit by late Tuesday.

Mrs. Caballero said he was to undergo tests next week in an effort to determine the extent of his medical problem.

Caballero, head of the art department for 20 years, resigned last January, but during the spring formally asked the university's board of regents to ignore the resignation and reinstate him as art department head.

The regents took that action in early August, but also established a hearing procedure should Watkins decide to terminate Caballero as department head.

A letter from Watkins to Caballero in late August notified the long-time art professor he would not be renewed as head of the department for this fall term.

Under the regent-established procedures, Caballero then called for an open hearing before a university ad hoc committee consisting of two deans and three department heads.

The hearing began Thursday morning and continued for more than 20 hours before ending just after noon on Saturday.

Caballero under the procedures has the right to appeal to the board of regents the decision reached by the hearing committee.

He has five days after the signing of a formal written opinion to submit notice of appeal.

treasurer in Randall County.

Two portions of the proposed local government article refer to the possibility of abolishing McClendon's office.

One section stipulates that the qualified voters of a county by a majority vote of those voting on the question may create additional offices, eliminate offices, or combine the duties and functions of offices. Under the section, if the functions of the county treasurer's office are combined with another office, the person overseeing the operation must be elected by the voters.

Before this portion of the constitution may go into effect, though, legislators must pass a general law authorizing such consolidations or eliminations.

Tax. . .

District and the State of Texas.

More than 53,000 tax statements went out from the county tax office this week to collect the money, an increase over the number issued in 1974 of about 5000.

Taxpayers who sent their tax payments during October to the county will be given a 3 per cent discount. If they wait until November to pay the taxes they will still get a 2 per cent discount. The discount drops to 1 per cent if the taxes are paid during December.

Deadline for tax payments to the county is Jan. 31. Taxes paid after that date accrue a 1½ per cent per month penalty charge.

About 15,000 tax statements have been sent to taxpayers from the joint city-school tax office in Canyon.

Conway Kuykendall, tax assessor-collector, said taxpayers who pay their taxes during October will receive a 3 per cent discount. No discount is afforded by the office for payments after Oct. 31. Deadline for payments is Jan. 31, and taxes paid after that date include a 1½ per cent per month penalty charge.

The school district tax roll for the year totals $1,430,257 while the City of Canyon tax roll totals $339,993.

The school tax roll reflects an 8.3 per cent increase over 1974 while the city tax roll reflects a 4 per cent increase.

Kuykendall said the city tax roll does not include about $13,000 marked from the roll for exemptions for persons over the age of 65.

He stressed that all property owners should receive a tax statement from the joint office, but that many addresses could be changed since statements were sent out last year. Kuykendall asked taxpayers who have not received statements by the end of next week to contact his office.

The joint tax office recently moved to new headquarters in the old Neblett Hospital building in downtown Canyon.

The largest taxpayer in the county roll is Southwestern Public Service Co. this year, according to Mrs. Bruse. Affiliated Foods of Amarillo is the largest school district taxpayer.

Randall County commissioners in August approved a tax increase for local taxpayers. The tax rate for this year is 95 cents per $100 valuation on 25 per cent of valuation.

School board members also voted a tax increase to $1.92 per $100 on 40 per cent of valuation.

The hospital board hiked its taxes also to 27 cents per $100 on 25 per cent of valuation.

Canyon city commissioners did not pass a tax hike last April, the start of their fiscal year.

*That the tax office of CISD place property values on the tax rolls at 100 per cent of the assessed value of the property, and that the board of education set tax rates adequate to meet the current budget.

*That the board of education of CISD endeavor to resolve the question of transferring land from CISD to Amarillo ISD to the best interests of the district and the children involved, with the understanding the board has the suppot of the Committee in such efforts.

*That the board of education of CISD consider the following criteria in establishing attendance boundaries among schools in the district: a. The travel distance from the student's residence to school b. An up-to-date student census to promote maximum building utilization c. A study of housing development and population trends d. A consideration of hazards in transportation of students — both by vehicular and pedestrian means.

In addition, the sub committee chairmen voted to add a sentence to go with the six recommendations noting that "the above recommendations are made by the Committee for Sound Finance to provide continued quality education for each student in the Canyon Independent School District."

Wooten said tonight's action by the full committee should end the work of the committee.

Another school board-appointed committee, a Committee for Quality Education, has not yet finished its work.

The sound finance group has met almost weekly since it was formed to review current and future financial conditions of the school district and to examine the fiscal problems involved in calling a bond issue.

School Financial Advisor Bob Davis of Columbian Securities Corp. has said with the current total assessed valuation in the district a bond issue of no more than $4.5 million could be passed. But, local school officials have discussed a figure between $5 and $6 million for construction of new schools.

comply with the law, Hutton said.

Originally, White had informed Hutton Randall County would be exempt from the law because it has fewer than 5 per cent Spanish-heritage persons.

Hutton said the new ruling will have little impact on local balloting in the Nov. 4 special election because he has not yet had the ballots printed for the voting.

A suggested ballot from White's office recommends a lengthier ballot with both languages carried side-by-side.

Hutton said he will instruct [illegible]tion [illegible]es in each of the 13 voting places for the election to hire one staff member who can speak and communicate effectively in both English and Spanish, even though most polling places will probably have no Spanish-heritage voters.

County Judge Woody Pond, miffed by the new ruling from the justice department, called a Washington official last week to confirm White's contention.

He said he was told that even though some Randall County precincts do not have any Spanish-Heritage residents voting materials and an interpreter must be provided.

"I asked him if this applied to German-speaking people in the county," Pond said, "and he said it doesn't. And, we've got more of them."

Pond said he's certain the county has more than 250 Spanish-heritage voters.

Absentee voting for the Nov. 4 election begins Oct. 15.

Voters will be given the opportunity that day of passing on eight proposed constitutional amendments, which taken as a whole, would replace if passed the current Texas Constitution.

cerned with the complaints. "We're concerned that we have people that feel we are injuring them," he said. "But we don't know what else to do. Our investigating engineers have said that we are absolutely not doing any damage."

However, Diel said his firm did not intend to be working in that area for very long.

Names Wanted For ASCS

Farmers are asked to nominate candidates of their choice to be on the ACS Community Committee ballot, according to Randall County Executive Director H.E. Maynard.

The ASC community committee election will be conducted from Nov. 21 to Dec. 1, by mail ballot. The three ASC communities in Randall County are: A (northwest), B (northeast) and C (south).

ASC committees are responsible for managing government farm programs on the local level. To meet the needs of the farmers of Randall County, ASC committee members should be concerned and responsible individuals, Maynard said.

Randall county farmers have the opportunity to nominate persons they feel would best serve the farm community. Farmers have been mailed the petition forms and may begin submitting them to the county ASCS office today.

In order to be valid, petitions must be limited to one nominee each, must be signed by at least three eligible farm voters in the ASC community and include written certification that the nominee is willing to serve if elected.

Petitions must be received in the county ASCS office no later than Oct. 28.

Anyone wishing to nominate a farmer for the ASC committee election may contact the county ASCS office for full details, including eligibility requirements for office-holders.

Homecoming Activities This Weekend

By MARY NEAL HENRY

HAPPY HOMECOMING IS this Friday, Oct. 3rd. Registration begins at two o'clock in the school auditorium. Assembly is at three and will be over about 4:30. Since there is no school that day, a bus time will not have to be considered. The buffet supper begins at 5:30 p.m. and game time is 8:00.

Homecoming queen will be crowned during the afternoon assembly and will reign for the evening. There will be coffee in the school cafeteria after the football game. The cheerleaders and pep squad have the cafeteria decorated and the gold curtains are hanging in the auditorium. Be there!

LEWIS KINKEAD OF Tucumcari, N.M. won the Wesley-Sims Memorial Steer Roping and trophy saddle on Sunday. The Trophy saddle was built by Stockman Saddle Shop.

It was a beautiful afternoon - with a gentle breeze and warm sun. Linn Helton of LaGrande, Oregon, announced one of the fastest steer ropings produced. Thirty seven ropers roped a total of 123 steers in about five hours. Wendell Sims II and Jim Bob Sims, sons of the late Wendell Sims, presented the trophy saddle to Lewis Kinkead.

Lewis Kinkead, won the average and about $2500 by tying four steers down in 65.4 seconds. Walter Arnold of Silverton won second with a time of 66.5 (a difference of nine tenths of a second) Eldon Dudley of Perryton won third with 66.9 (only four tenths behind) and Roy Thompson of Happy, the 1975 World Champion, won fourth with 69.5.

Kenny Call won the parlay - that is, he tied seven head down in the fastest time of both calf roping and steer roping. Kenny received a pair of bits donated by Taylor-Evans.

Troy Fort and Eldon Dudley tied for first and second place in the first go-round with a time of 14.9 seconds; Kenny Call of Blanco won third with 15.4 and Buddy Cockrell, Pampa, and Phillip French, Crescent, tied for fourth place.

Don McLaughlin won the second go-round with a time of 15.1; James Allen won second with 15.7; and Pecos McIntyre and Walter Arnold tied for third and fourth with a 16.3.

Steer roping went up in the third go when Charles Good of Elida, N.M. broke the arena record of 13.5 held by his brother, Billy Frank Good. Charles roped and tied a steer in 13.3 to win the go-round. Phillip French won second with 14.1; Bud Upton of San Angelo won third with 14.2 and Buddy Cockrell of Pampa won fourth with 14.4. Troy Fort tied a steer in 14.6, that go, Sam Falks and Charles Noble, both tied one in 14.8 and there were seven steers tied in 15 to 15.9 seconds that didn't even win in the go-round.

The arena record was broken for the second time of the afternoon in the short go (the fourth go) when Walter Arnold roped a steer in 12.9 seconds. Tuffy Thompson won second with a 14 flat. Only two moneys were paid in the short go. Only twelve top ropers participated.

Dee Hudgins had the longest time on four head of steers and won the Beef Gift Certificate donated by Happy CowBelle Judy Thompson. (It is also good at a restaurant, Dee. It doesn't buy as much beef that way, but it works.)

Posey Bonds won the drawing and the trip for two to the National Rodeo in Oklahoma City in December. Posey had just celebrated his eightieth birthday. We wish him many more. Posey is a cowboy that is seen daily still working and frequently pulling his horse in the trailor to or from work.

I TOOK A busman's holiday and went to the beef program in Canyon last week. Dr. Frank Orts of Texas A&M presented slides on the tenderness of beef, yield grades, and selling factors of beef. Jane Hager of the National Livestock and Meat Board demonstrated the cooking of five beef recipes and gave one as a door prize. All five dishes were delicious. She even marinated and broiled a chuck blade steak that cost only about fifty cents a serving.

Dorothy Davis won that door prize. I'm still listening for my telephone to ring. She is going to ask me out to help eat it.

Dr. Frank Orts is the one who designed the 4-H Meat Identification and Demonstration Program that Texas CowBelles voted to sponsor annually. I helped to judge the first state contest this year. First prize was a carving set, second prize was a set of steak knives and third prize was a french chef knife. These prizes accompanied the certificates and medals.

I have watched Jane Hager many times. Her wit and humor add a different "spice" to her program.

The recipes are in last Sunday's edition of the Canyon News. They are really good! So be sure you have that paper. Dr. Ort's and Miss Hager's picture also appeared with the article.

BONNIE BRISCOE WAS installed Worthy Advisor of Happy Rainbow Assembly last Saturday evening in formal services at the Masonic Lodge in Happy. Ruth Sims served as her Installing Officer. Other installing Officers were: Marshall, Diane Johnson; Recorder, Beverly Dowd; Musician, Cathy Parker; and Chaplain, Linda Briscoe.

Bonnie chose "Rainbow Love" for her theme and pink and white for her colors. Her flowers are pink and white baby roses. Her scripture is John 3:16: "For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son, that whosoever should believe on him, should not perish, but should have everlasting life." Bonnie's motto is "Better Not To Live, than Not To Love." Her symbol is the open Bible and her song, "Pass It On." The song was sang by Brenda Parker accompanied by her sister, Cathy Parker.

Other officers installed were Worthy Associate Advisor, Becky Stubblefield; Charity, Brenda Parker; Hope, Kim McCaslin; Faith, Lissa Foster; Drill Leader, Christi McCaslin; Chaplain, Romona Weavers,; Love, Terry Peterson; Religion, Janet foseter; Nature, Lisa Johnson; Immortality, Susan Cope; Fidelity, Debbie Parker; Patriotism, Angela Parker; Service, Cindy Dugan; Confidential Observer, Kelly Weavers; Outer Observer, Laura Fellers; Musician, Nancy Woods; Choir Director, Dayna Foster and choir, Diane Johnson, Vicki Jones, Beverly Dowd and Shawn Walters. Cathy Parker, Recorder, and Connie Hand, treasurer, serve for year terms. The Mother Advisor is Mrs. Mary Stubblefield. Ushers for the evening were Debbie Parker and Janet Foster.

Bonnie introduced her parents, Wilma and Frank Briscoe, and her sister, Linda Briscoe. She dedicated her term to Linda. Bonnie also introduced her little sisters in Rainbow, Christi McCaslin and Terry Peterson.

Eastern Star were hostess for the occasion and served pink punch and cookies, mints and nuts, from a table covered with a light pink cloth and centered with pink roses.

Gospel Meetings To Begin Sunday

PHYLLIS BRADLEY, ANNIE Lemmons and I traveled to Colorado last Thursday and returned on Saturday. Annie visited a long time friend, Madge Harris, of Colorado Springs. Phil and I traveled on to Denver where I attended the Executive Meeting of American National CowBelles on Friday and she went shopping at Cinderella City.

Friday evening we attended the reception for the thirty two state winners entered in the Second Annual National Beef Cook-Off. Recipes of all state winners were available at the reception. We met each of them and some of their families and friends.

Novalene Toles, a finalist in the most recent Texas State Beef Cook-Off, represented Texas in the 1974 National Contest. Texas did not sponsor a contestant this year.

We returned on Saturday and arrived home rather late.

A National Evaluation Committee was appointed by the National President, LaVonne Ater. I was appointed to that committee. The committee will remain in force until a final report is presented to the National Convention.

Litter ringed the elementary school in Canyon this week as trash piled up along the fence on 11th Avenue, 23rd Street and 10th Avenue. The debris accumulated as school, city and state officials decided who should clean it up, however, late Tuesday, the state highway department cleared the area along 23rd Street.

Just follow the litter to Conner Park. Trash blown by the wind against the fence at Rex Reeves Elementary School clogs the right of way along 11th Avenue.

Who Will Clean School Litter?

Who cleans it up when paper and debris pile up along the street right of way in the city?

That was the problem this week near Rex Reeves Elementary School, as trash littered the grassy strip between the curb and the schoolyard fence. And, for awhile, no one seemed to know what to do about it.

Bob Parks, principal at Rex Reeves, said he thought the city and state were responsible for maintenance.

"We try to keep inside the fence picked up and try to capture everything that blows in," he said.

Tom Plumlee, city administrative assistant, said the city was responsible for cleaning the right of way along city streets.

"I'm not familiar with the problem in that area," he said. "But we'll definitely check into it, and if there is a problem there, we'll take care of it."

Plumlee said the city has no regular clean up program.

"We always have some blowing problems and we try to take care of it along with regular trash collection," he said. Litter on private property is the responsibility of the property owner, he reminded.

Plumlee said he believed that the area along 23rd Street, which is also Highway 87, was the responsibility of the state highway department. However, after some checking, Don Day, at the highway department, said the state is responsible for only curb to curb cleaning and the right of ways within the city are the city's responsibility.

But state workers cleaned the area Tuesday, he said. "Things like that we try to do within our limited funding, but not necessarily on a regular basis."

Eagles Hunting Win Over Tough Pampa

With their first touchdown finally under their belts this season, Canyon's Eagles will be looking for their first victory as they face their toughest opposition to date in the Pampa Harvesters at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Kimbrough Stadium here.

The AAAA Harvesters boast a meaty offense and defense, but the Eagles have had that problem before.

Now 0-3-1 for the season, with a 7-6 loss last week end to Hereford, Canyon's team has been working out under Coach Deane Wright with emphasis on moving the ball.

Held scoreless all year until the last two minutes of the Hereford game, the Eagles hope to control the ball more against Pampa to relieve pressure from a defensive unit which has proven against tough AAA teams it can handle itself on the field.

For Wright, a winning coach in his first year here after a stint at Dimmitt, the offense of the Eagles is a key problem area and although he believes the unit has improved since the high schoolers opened the season against Monterey of Lubbock in early September he also knows they have a long way to go.

For the first time since the season opened, two Eagle running backs scored passing grades on their effort against Hereford last Friday night. Wright said they are the first two offensive backs to receive a passing grade on the Eagle staff scoring system.

"(Allen) Shankles and (Joe) Luquette played good enough you could win if we can get it consistent," Wright said. Shankles has been starting quarterback for the Eagles while Luquette has been running.

While Wright is not unduly displeased with the running of halfback Ronnie Whitney and fullback Jonothan Hull, he says until they can make good on blocking assignments, their grades will be below par.

The brightest part of the Eagle line-up so far this year has been the defense, holding rugged opposition to few points and yards, but Wright said the defense didn't play as well against Hereford as it has in the past.

He singled out, though, several defenders as doing good jobs at their positions. Tough Bob Lee, who twice against Hereford donned a running back jersey over his 240-pound frame, was in on 19 tackles against the Whitefaces from his down lineman position, a virtually phenomenal feat, according to Wright, considering the big senior was not only double-teamed throughout the game but was also playing with a sprained ankle.

Wright hopes to vitalize a sluggish offense and bolster the already-proven Eagle defense against Pampa Friday night.

"We're fixing to play the toughest team we've played," the coach said Tuesday.

Pampa has a benchful of 200-pound running backs and linemen, and a running back considered a top high school prospect last year at Borger High School.

With trepidation, Wright goes down the starting roster of the Harvesters and counts off the big men Canyon must contend with. There's a 260-pound defensive right tackle, for example, and a 205-pound defensive left tackle, linebackers weighing in at 190 and 210 pounds, a nose guard at 180 pounds, defensive ends at 190 and 180 pounds.

One Pampa linebacker, Frankie Lemons, a 6-2, 210-pounder, is all-state material, Wright says, and his scouts agree, terming Lemons "as tough as you'll find."

Sporting a 3-0 record for the season, Pampa will work from a Houston veer offense, depending on the former Borger speedster and big running backs to bull the Canyon defense.

Garland McPherson, who alternated at the quarterback slot last season, is not expected to toss the ball during the outing. Through the season, Pampa has thrown only 21 times and has run the ball more than 170 times.

Mike Glover, a senior who transferred to Pampa from the Bulldogs of Borger at the start of the season, has been eyed as the best running back in the area, Wright says, and he's a 200-pounder who'll be hard to stop.

Another 200-pound back, Rick Moore, is expected to try the tenacity of the Eagle defensive line.

While the Canyon offense will remain unchanged for the game, Eagle fans can expect to see some changes in the defensive secondary Friday night.

Matt Madewell, who was in on 15 tackles against Hereford, injured a knee during the third quarter of that game and was to undergo surgery Tuesday. He's not expected to return to play this season.

Madewell, a defensive safety, is to be replaced probably by Lyndon Brazile with Randy Langen taking Brazile's spot at defensive halfback.

Wright, who illustrated his confidence in his offensive unit last week end when he had them go for a two-point conversion at the game's close, says he believes in time the offensive unit can become more effective.

Team leaders, he says, also believe the offense can move the ball "and that's a big part of it."

Happy's Homecoming

The thirteenth annual homecoming will be held Friday, October 3, with registration beginning at 1 p.m. for all ex-students and their families.

Ex-students will be attending from throughout the Texas Panhandle area and several are expected from out-of-state for the events.

After registration, the ex-students and others of the community and area are invited to the Homecoming Assembly at 3 o'clock where the "homecoming queen" will be crowned, and the special guest team of 1955 will be introduced.

The 1955 football team along with the honored classes of 1915-25-35-45-55-65 and 75, the golden anniversary class of 1925 and the silver anniversary class of 1950 will be recognized during the afternoon assembly.

A pep rally will be included in the afternoon festivities and an ex-student business meeting will be conducted during the afternoon.

A buffet supper for all will be served in the school cafeteria from 5:30 until 7:30 p.m. The tickets for the supper are $2.50 each.

Following the buffet supper, the Homecoming football game will pit the Happy Cowboys vs. the Matador football team. Game time is 8 p.m.

The football game will be followed with a free coffee time at the school cafeteria at 10 p.m. The Happy Booster Club will be selling cake, pie and other drinks at the coffee time event.

Buffs Hope To Repeat History As They Meet Arlington Here

Good things happened to West Texas State's football program when the Buffs started playing the University of Texas at Arlington back in 1962 and Coach Gene Mayfield and his players hope history will start repeating itself Saturday night when the maroon and white hosts the Mavericks in Kimbrough Stadium here.

In '62, the Buffs romped past UTA (then called Arlington State) by a 49-0 count en route to a 9-2 season record and a Sun Bowl win over Ohio. Since that time, WTSU has won six more games to take a 7-3 lead in the series.

Both teams go into the 7:30 p.m. game with 1-2 records.

The Buffs have a 10-6 win over Lamar, while the Mavericks beat Texas Christian 24-7. The Buffalo losses have been to Wichita State (13-7) and Tulsa (23-14) in games decided by field goals. UTA's losses have been to North Texas State and Louisiana Tech by solid margins.

For the fourth straight week, the Buff starting backfield will have a new look. This time, the withdrawal of leading rusher Freddie Turner from school has forced the return of Dimmitt's Robert Mayberry to left halfback where we have had problems producing. Obviously, we are not throwing the ball as well as we'd like."

Mayfield expects a tough offensive game from the Mavs after back in the place of the Dallas sophomore. Sugar Land sophomore Anthony Dogan is slated to move up to the first unit at right half.

Lamesa freshman Bo Robinson at fullback and San Antonio junior Tully Blanchard will complete the WT starting backfield.

Fullback Derrick Jensen is Arlington's biggest offensive threat, gaining 206 yards on 48 carries so far this year. Through the air, quarterback Doug Dobbins has completed 15 of 36 attempts for 192 yards and two touchdowns. Both of the touchdowns and nine of the passes have been caught by split-end Ronnie Barnett.

Before Saturday's 37-8 loss to Louisiana Tech, the Mavs had been tied for fifth in the nation in total defense, but the Bulldogs gained 510 yards to erase that ranking.

"The thing you need to do offensively to give U.T. Arlington some problems is throw the football," says Mayfield. "Certainly that's what Louisiana Tech did. That's an area, though, scouting the UTA-Louisiana Tech game last week end.

"Their quarterback (Doug Dobbins) and fullback (Derrick Jensen) played particularly well against TCU, and their split end (Barnett) is a skilled player," he said. "Defensively, they have three outstanding down linemen in the middle (tackles David Flake and Dwight Carey, and noseguard Charlie Dews), and they are the heart of their defense. All three are big and quick."

Last week end, the Buffaloes rested on the first of two open dates on this year's schedule.

"In this case, we needed and were able to profit by the open date," Mayfield said. "We had three good practices last week. Another plus was the fact that some of the players who couldn't work because of relatively minor injuries progressed and were able to get back in sound physical condition."

The only doubtful performer in Saturday night's outing is Greg Whetstone, who has not been able to play all season after knee surgery in the spring. All other Buffs are expected to be in shape for the UTA game.

The Buffs will bring to the game a superior defensive team, the Buffs leading the Missouri Valley Conference in three of the four team defense categories.

WT has allowed only 142 yards per game rushing, 252.3 total yards per game and 14 points per game.

Before allowing Louisiana Tech 510 yards last week end, the Mavs had been ranked in a fifth place tie in the nation in total defense.

Both squads run out of the wishbone offense but with the ability to shift to the I formation if needed. Mayberry is leading WTSU rusher with 75 yards in 22 carries, while Jensen leads Mavs with 206 yards on 48 carries.

But for the Buffs to turn their season around, the offense must start producing on a par with the defense.

If the history of the series with UTA is any indication, this could be the week of the great turnaround.

Runners In Colorado Meet

West Texas State's young cross-country team takes a step up in competition and distance this weekend when it meets Colorado State in a six-mile duel in Fort Collins.

Coach Bob Kitchens will take a five-man team to meet the tough Western Athletic Conference opponent, headed by Kenyan sophomore Joseph Tiony. Tiony kept his 1975 undefeated record intact last week with a 20:30 clocking over four miles in the Lubbock Christian Invitational at Lubbock's McKenzie Park.

"He ran that 20:30 on a hilly course, too," Kitchens said of Tiony's win. "It was a meet record on a course much more difficult than the one we ran in that meet last year."

In CSU, Kitchens said that the Buffs would be meeting one of the "better teams in the area, although I haven't seen any of their results this year. They should be better than anyone we've faced so far this year."

"I've just got to get our team mentally ready to run six miles," he added. "We are basically more suited to run longer races, but we have run and not held back."

Pep Rally Downtown On Friday

The "pep rally" for Eagle supporters will be held at 4:45 p.m. on Friday in downtown Canyon, according to Bess Brillhart, cheerleader sponsor.

All residents, students who are on holiday Friday, and other interested individuals are invited for the "pep" session to be conducted on the east side of the courthouse square.

The "pep rally" will precede the football game Friday evening where the Eagles meet the Pampa Harvesters in Frank Kimbrough Memorial Stadium at 7:30 p.m.

Coach Calls Mills Tops

If you are thinking that West Texas State is playing some teams this year that have excellent wide receivers, you're right.

And in the same thought train, you are probably thanking your lucky stars that the Buffs have Tommy Mills, the junior cornerback from Hampton, Va. By the time Mills' WT career is over, he just might be considered one of the best defensive backs in the nation.

Look what he did against Steve Largent, Tulsa's superlative split end who Hurricane Coach F.A. Dry calls the best receiver in the nation. After catching eight passes for 94 yards and two touchdowns against Kansas State, Largent was able to catch only two for 44 yards against Mills.

"Tommy did an excellent job," Ronnie Mankin, WT's defensive backfield coach, said. "He kept flip-flopping off and on and stayed with Largent the whole game.

"And I also think Largent is one of the best in the country."

Mills transferred to West Texas State from Hutchinson, Kans., Junior College, and instantly proved himself to be a better than reliable cornerback, which is what the Buffs were looking for.

"I think cornerback is one of the toughest positions to play," added Mankin. "You have to stay with someone who runs anywhere between a 9.8 and 9.3 hundred, and then you have to worry about coming up on the run. It takes a lot of instinct, and Tommy has that instinct.

"He has the toughness, can jump and change directions well, and he can come up and take on those big runners."

What also has the Buff coaches smiling is Mills' punt and kickoff return ability. So far he has returned seven punts for 40 yards, and has returned five kickoffs for 139 yards, the longest being a 51-yarder against Wichita State.

"What makes Tommy such an excellent return man is that he is reckless," said Mankin. "He just hates to fair-catch the ball and will catch it in a crowd."

Mills will find work no easier this week, either, when the Buffs meet the University of Texas at Arlington in Kimbrough Stadium Saturday night (Oct. 4). His assignment will come in the form of Ronnie Barrett, of whom UTA coach Bud Elliott says, "There isn't anyone in the country who can do an adequate job of covering Ronnie Barnett one-on-one."

Tommy Mills has heard things like that before.

WT Golfers In Tourney

West Texas State continues its fall golf season this weekend in the Air Force Academy Intercollegiate in Colorado Springs.

Amarillo senior Tommy Smith will lead the six-man WT team in the 36-hole tournament on the Academy's Eisenhower Course. Also entered for the Buffaloes will be Perryton senior Rick Piersall, Amarillo junior Frank Shankle, Slaton freshman Keith Bumpass, Albuquerque freshman Mike Insani, and Katy senior David Scott.

Johnson led the Buff qualifying for the big tournament with a 72-hole total of 295 with Piersall coming in at 301 and Frank Shankle at 303.

In their only play so far this fall, Coach Vern Farquhar's team finished fifth in an intercollegiate meet hosted by Clarendon College.

But this weekend's meet promises to provide much tougher competition. Farquhar expects most of the Western Athletic Conference teams, as well as Weber State and the host Falcons.

Next week, the Buffs compete closer to home when they defend their 1974 title in the Midwestern University Invitational in Wichita Falls.

Sports Banquet Set April 3

April 3, 1976 has been officially set as the date for the annual All-Sports Banquet for Canyon High School athletes, according to Mrs. Sandy Martin of the CHS Eagle Booster Club.

Mrs. Martin said the date was set Monday night by local booster club members. The banquet, which is funded by various booster club activities and drives, will be at the junior high school cafeteria.

Mrs. Martin said in other action Monday the boosters decided to run two buses to Perryton on Oct. 31 for fans to watch the Eagle-Ranger game there. Bus reservations, with seats costing about $5.25 per person, may be made by calling Phil Langen at 655-2080.

The booster club is still seeking persons interested in helping run concession stands at the high school practice field, particularly for junior high or junior varsity games which begin at 4:30 p.m.

She said anyone who could help in this activity, through which the boosters raise most of their funds for the all-sports banquet, should contact Carol Whitney at 655-9114.

The boosters voted unanimously Monday night to install water in the practice field concession stand.

In other business Monday, the boosters saw film and heard reports from Coach Deane Wright on the play of the Eagles last weekend against Hereford's Whitefaces. They also reviewed the prospects for the Eagles this weekend against Pampa.

Buffalo Gals

Lots Of Softball Ahead

A fourth place finish in the Texas Women's University tournament that included an upset win over the host school will propel West Texas State into a busy home schedule this week.

Coach Mary Hill's Buffalo Gals will come out Tuesday night at the Canyon Softball Field against Texas Tech, and Saturday the team will host its own invitational tournament.

That tournament, though, could turn out to be just a WT-Tech doubleheader. WTSU is the only school in the TAIAW's West Zone to field a softball team intercollegiately (it's a club sport at Texas Tech), and all other schools downstate will be involved in zone tournaments. A club team from Wayland Baptist and an amateur outfit from Amarillo, the Dolls, would complete the tournament field.

The Buffs stand 5-4 on the season after the TWU meet. WT had a chance to win it all until pitcher Bennie Weeks was injured against Texas A&M. Weeks had beaten North Texas State in 11 innings and stopped TWU 8-5 on Friday before her injury.

"She might be able to play Tuesday night," Hill said Monday. "At Denton where we had it x-rayed, they said she tore ligaments and would be out at least 10 days and possibly for the season, but Eddie Day (WTSU's trainer) said it was just a severe sprain."

If Weeks isn't able to pitch Tuesday, Amarillo senior Mary Beth Pace will move from her third base position to the mound and Patty Brogdon taking over at third.

The rest of the Buff starting lineup will have Canyon senior Joy Williams at first, Amarillo freshman Belinda Whitson at second, Canyon freshman Penny Peckenpaugh at shortstop, Valarie Gilbert in left field, Debbie Webb in center, Martha Keel in right, and Terry Young behind the plate.

Following this week's action, Hill will take her team to Huntsville for the Sam Houston State Invitation on Oct. 10-11. Then it will be the state TAIAW tournament at Beaumont on Oct. 16-18.

Buffalo Bill Corralled

Buffalo Bill will no longer ride around the West Texas State University Kimbrough Memorial Stadium celebrating a Buffalo touchdown.

The spirit rider image was done away with after the first Buffalo home game Sept. 20 when the horse became hard for Buffalo Bill to handle, according to Jim Campbell, WTSU athletic business manager.

"That horse was just getting too dangerous. It was too spooked from the crowd," Campbell said.

Ridden by Jerry Settles, Canyon senior, the horse rode up the hill at the stadium's north end zone Sept. 20 and also damaged the playing field.

Settles, the second Buffalo Bill in four years, also felt that the horse was dangerous.

"When you get a higher grade horse, usually it's higher strung. Some horses can't adapt to people. This one wasn't used to all the jumping up and down of the crowd and the cheerleaders," Settles said.

"I was never so scared that I might hurt someone as I was that night."

Both Campbell and Settles felt that liability to the rider, the horse, the cheerleaders and other people on the field was too high.

The $10,000 cutting horse ridden by Settles was donated by Dave Browder of Goodnight, who originally thought of the idea of the spirit rider, Campbell said.

Saddle, bit, bridle and other gear for the horse was donated by John Trammell, Cowtown Western Wear of Amarillo. Value of the gear amounts to $1,000, Campbell explained.

The School of Agriculture furnished a stall and feed for the horse.

Both the horse and the Buffalo Bill image will be retained by the athletic department for appearances at rodeos and parades.

There's nothing like rivalry over a girl to end a perfectly good friendship, as two editors of an underground newspaper find out when they both fall for a patriotic miss from Arkansas. But it's all in fun, in "Star Spangled Girl," to be presented Thursday and Saturday nights at the high school. Here Scot Purkeypile (left) and Allen Shankles (right) square off for a fight in Neil Simon's comedy.

Reflection Ball Oct. 25

Butter churning, spinning, muzzle loading and dancing are just part of the historical combinations planned for "American Reflections: A Bicentennial Ball" set for the evening of Oct. 25 in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum.

The Bicentennial Ball is being sponsored by the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, the West Texas State University Advisory Council for Campus Enhancement and the Randall County-Canyon Bicentennial Committee.

The museum's Pioneer Village will come alive, as each of its offices, stores, bar and blacksmith shop are opened up for business and exhibitions of the old ways. There will be demonstrations of butter churning, spinning, muzzle loading and tool sharpening, as well as free home remedies lists and old-fashioned candy.

Special events planned are a presentation by the WTSU Readers Theatre, a square dancing exhibition and a slide show on the Panhandle Pioneer women. Dave Ritter's combo will provide the music for dancing.

The ball will also kick off the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum's "Museum Week." Quilts and coverlets will be on display, as well as the National Watercolor Exhibition.

Tickets are $10 per couple.

The president of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society is Joe Poole, and museum director is Dr. James Hanson. Co-chairmen of the Advisory Council are Mrs. Lloyd I. Watkins, Mrs. Charles M. Smallwood and Mrs. Frank Daugherty.

Korean Angels Appear On CCA Program

The first program of the 1975-76 Canyon Community Concerts Association will be presented October 5 at 3 p.m. in Canyon High School auditorium.

"The Little Angels of Korea" will present ballet selections for the afternoon program and will be guests of local and CCA members during their brief stay in Canyon.

The ballet company includes 32 dancers and musicians playing some fifty different kinds of instruments providing a unique program of dance. Bo Hi Pak is president for the group and Moo Kyung Lee is tour director. The 'Little Angels' have presented several other tours in North America and amazed audiences at each performance as well as being seen by countless numbers in television performances.

The CCA is currently seeking new memberships in the Association here with a headquarters location this week at Southwestern Public Service Building during business hours. Memberships sell at $12.50 for adults, $5 for university and public school students or $35 for family groups including the children.

Other than those bearing membership cards, the community concerts are open to area residents bearing membership cards from their CCA groups.

Other programs this year will be the New York Brass Quintet on February 20, 1976 and the Jorge Morel presentation of classical guitar on Feb. 1, 1976.

THDA Meeting Attended By Locals

"Home — The Foundation of America" was the theme for the state convention of the Texas Home Demonstration Association held in Abilene September 23-25 which was attended by two local delegates.

Mrs. Weldon Tucek of Sunyhill Home Demonstration Club and Mrs. Bernard Grabber of the Highland Home Demonstration Club attended the convention as delegates representing the Randall County Home Demonstration Council.

Mrs. Dolph Briscoe addressed the convention group on "the home's control of an individual's viewpoint" and noted that "when the home is strong — that is the best place to building dreams from", according to the two local delegates notes.

The two local delegates, Mrs. Tucek and Mrs. Grabber, were involved in workshops pertaining to publicity, health, citizenship, cultural arts and recreation, safety and 4-H. They brought materials in each workshop field to share with the local clubs for future programs and these materials will be available in the Randall County Courthouse at the office of Extension Agent, Becky Hall.

A banquet attended by 800 delegates concluded the state THDA convention and all delegates were presented with miniature decoupaged loaves of bread for souvenirs.

A $400 check was presented to Ray Grimes, hospital administrator for Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon, by Mrs. Kenneth Crossland of Chi Omega Alumnae chapter this week. The money was furnished by the sorority alumnae chapter to be used toward completion of a 'prayer room' in the new hospital.

Chevette

40 MPG HIGHWAY
28 MPG CITY
EPA RATING

That's with the standard 1.4-litre engine and 4-speed manual transmission. The mileage you get, of course, will be strongly influenced by how and where you drive.

- Chevette is international in design and heritage, incorporating engineering concepts proved around the world.
- Its wheelbase is about the same as a VW Rabbit's.
- It has more front-seat head room than a Datsun B-210, more front-seat leg room than a Toyota Corolla.
- Its turning circle is one of the shortest in the world.
- It can carry cargo up to four feet wide.
- It is well insulated against noise.
- It is protected by 17 anti-corrosion methods.
- It is basically a metric car.
- It comes with a clear, simple self-service booklet.
- It has a standard 1.4-litre engine. A 1.6-litre engine is available (except Scooter).

Impala

One of America's most popular full-size cars. That's the result of giving America good value for the dollar. This year, the Impala series includes the new value of the thrifty Impala S—Chevrolet's lowest priced full-size car.

Nova/Concours

America's favorite compact car. Our basic compact, '76 Nova, makes even more sense than the 3 million Novas that preceded it. And Concours, the brand-new model featured here, is our highly practical approach to compact luxury.

Chevelle

Enough car for practically anything. It offers room for six at a sensible price. This year, more than ever, its deft blending of mid-size economies, plus room for the average family, makes Chevelle a size whose time has come.

There's much more to see at your Chevy dealer's. Caprice, Monza, Monte Carlo, Camaro, Corvette, Chevrolet wagons—something for everyone in 1976.

Eleanor Greiner of St. Ann's Catholic Women's Council, seated, was minding the booth while market merchants and customers were busy in the flea market on Saturday. The overall project was a tremendous success earning funds for Ricky's medical bills. In photo #2 flea market saleslady, Lorita Montgomery sold her tole paintings on wood to customers during the two day event adding $116 to the total project. In photo #3 Canyon Dames president, Janet Hand, was among local clubs attending to business at the flea market for the Ricky Valdez fund during the week end. The sale of books and magazines by the Canyon Dames tallied $48.20 for the total effort.

Ricky Valdez Fund Gets Big Boost From Effort

An overwhelming success of the community "flea market" last weekend has deposited over $1,600 from that effort toward the medical expenses of Ricky Valdez, 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Brito Valdez of Umbarger.

"It's just great the way everyone turned out and helped," stated Carmen Hernandez of Canyon Community Family Services as she and members of the Buffalo Breakers CB Club deposited the "market proceeds" towards Ricky's medical fund.

"We also have a good church collection, over $400 to deposit from St. Ann's Catholic Church this week," stated Mrs. Hernandez. And the medical account this week was added to by the "rock-a-thon" deposit of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity members.

At presstime Wednesday the trust accounts for Ricky Valdez medical needs had climbed to $3,295.97 as a result of concerned citizens in the community.

The "flea market" bustled with customers and donors throughout the day Saturday and Sunday at the Randall County Junior Livestock Building. Homebaked cakes, pies, cookies and other goodies were brought and sold by the Rex Reeves Parent-Teacher Association which raised $153.85; by the St. Ann's Women's Council which sold $68.00 worth of goodies; and by the four local chapters of Beta Sigma Phi which raised $123.21 on baked goods, hot coffee and iced tea at the effort.

Homebaked breads and chile con carne along with a fresh vegetable market were sold by Canyon Community Family Services to aid the overall effort.

The Canyon Dames sold $48.20 worth of paperback novels, magazines and other books to raise the market proceeds and original tole painted pictures by local artist, Lorita Montgomery, added $116.00 to the project.

The "market" originated as a project sponsored by the Buffalo Breakers CB Club and had all types of housewares, home appliances, furniture, used clothing and other goodies for the buying public with sales amounting to $424.29 on Saturday and $210.56 on Sunday afternoon.

As a mid-afternoon break Sunday, the CB Club sold new merchandise amounting to $357.50 in an auction. Auctioneering services were contributed by local auctioneers, Meade Michael and Darroll Adams, and the new items on the auction block were donated by city merchants.

"The total CB market sales and auction took in over $1,000, itself" stated the chairman, Becky Miller. "We want to express our appreciation to all the local folks for their support and work."

"A project of this sort takes everyone and all were ready to help anyway that they could," she stated. "Our special thanks to those who operated booths and donated merchandise for the project and to the art students of Charlotte Brantley who did the poster artwork advertising the market."

Merchant gift items sold at the auction Sunday afternoon were donated by: Western Auto, The Blue Daisy, Williams, Etc., Haley's Printing, M.E. Moses, Merle Norman Cosmetics, West Texas Arts and Hobbies, The Frame Shop, HR's Flowers and Gifts, The Rock Shop, Jean's of Canyon, Tweedledee, McDonald's Restaurant, Fassauer Industries, Musser Welding Shop, Anderson Appliance, De'Ons, Shell's Pharmacy, McDonald's Ladies Wear, C.R. Anthony, First National Bank, MEW Ceramics, Village Shoppe, Taylor and Sons Lumber, H. Root, Company, Thompson's of Canyon, and by individuals Cecil Dahlke and Mrs. C.S. Thompson.

Deaf Workshop Attended

BY REBA RAEF

OUR PASTOR, MONSIGNOR M.F. Schafle, has returned from San Antonio where he attended a workshop for the deaf, held at St. Mary's University.

For the past several years, the Texas Knights of Columbus, a Catholic men's fraternal and service organization, has been actively engaged in helping our state's deaf people in many ways.

In numerous areas in Texas, the Knights are providing the funds and the manpower for Ecumenical teachers, interpreters, coordinators, training aids, workshops, etc. for the deaf.

Monsignor Schafle, who is deaf but is experienced in speech reading and manual communication, is giving freely of his time to help the deaf in our area.

There were 58 in attendance at the workshop. Ben Koch is the diocesan coordinator.

WHILE MONSIGNOR SCHAFLE was in San Antonio, we were privileged to have Bishop Lawrence M. DeFalco to say our Sunday Mass. He also visited the C.C.D. classes.

ACCORDING TO POSTMASTER Amalia Bracht, our post office and others in nearby communities are joining in a new nationwide program to improve your mail service.

The U.S. Postal Service has introduced a customer service card which will make it easier for you and other postal customers to let us know if deliveries are late, a postal employee has not been courteous or you have any other problems with your mail service.

The consumer service program takes the red tape out of filing complaints and getting action. It consists of two cards with carbon paper between them. One copy goes to your postmaster so work can begin on the complaint. The other copy goes to Postal Service Headquarters in Washington for analysis. By getting this information in our own community and nationally, we can spot problem areas and trends and take action to correct them.

Whether it is a complaint or a compliment, ask your letter carrier or a post office clerk for the new service card.

Starting October 11th, all domestic first-class mail will receive the same service as airmail. There will be no service advantage in paying airmail postage rates for domestic first-class mail. Airmail postage should still be used on all international mail. Airmail stamps and stamped envelopes may be exchanged here for ordinary stamps and stamped envelopes.

JOE AND GERTRUDE Grotegut have company from Germany. Gertrude's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Agust Schniederkotter and her brother, Heinz Grachtrup, will be here until October 10th. They are from Ostenfelde, West Germany.

PEE WEE AND Ernestine Friemel have a new grandson, Kyle Raymond Irlbeck. He belongs to Raymond and Pam Irlbeck, of Canyon. His paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Irlbeck, also from Canyon. Joe Friemel of Umbarger is a great-grandfather. Our congratulations to the proud parents and grandparents.

SEVERAL NEW TEACHERS and helpers have been added to the C.C.D. teaching staff. John Wieck will help Carolyn Beckman and Kenneth Wieck and Ernie and Lois Stocker are discussion leaders for the adult classes. Alice Koch and Mrs. Joe Wieck are in charge of the nursery and Helen Batenhorst and Rose Hoffman have volunteered as helpers.

* * *

NEXT MONDAY, OCTOBER 6th, the Umbarger Community Association will meet in the school gym at 8:30 p.m. Plans for the coming volleyball season will be discussed. There is a need for adult supervision for the youth teams, so all you parents attend this meeting and support the volleyball program for the youth. Several adult teams need players, so come to the meeting, if you're interested in playing this season. Refreshments will be served.

Scouts Selling Calendars

The annual Girl Scout calendar sale began yesterday and will continue throughout October.

Canyon Girl Scouts are competing in a sales contest, with each girl competing against every other girl in the Amarillo Council in her age group.

The grand prize winner will receive her choice of a television set or a ten-speed bicycle.

Henderson Joins Army

Joe B. Henderson, husband of Betty Joe Henderson, both of Canyon, Texas, enlisted in the Delayed Enlistment Program of the United States Air Force on September 24, 1975, according to Sergeant Ronald Carter, local Air Force Recruiter.

Joe was a graduate of Phillips High School, class of '72'. He will depart for Lackland AFB, Tex. to take six weeks of basic training, and has selected the guaranteed job of Morse System Operator for his technical training.

Ralph Cabe Funeral Today

Funeral services for Ralph W. Cabe will be held today at the Schooler-Gordon chapel in Canyon by the Rev. Paul Heil, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Happy.

Burial, with a flag detail manned by the Canyon VFW post 5681, will be in Dreamland Cemetery in Canyon.

A Canyon resident for the past 51 years, Cabe, who lived at Pecos Park, No. 12, died Tuesday. He was 64. He was born in Vernon on Feb. 1, 1911 and was married to the former Marjorie White until her death in 1957.

Cabe served in the Navy during World War II and was a member of the Canyon VFW and the Amarillo Carpenters' Local 665.

He is survived by a son, Ralph E. Cabe of Amarillo; a daughter, Mrs. June Allwein of Tulsa, Okla.; three brothers, Poe Cabe of Happy, Dan Cabe of Huntsville, Ala. and Jim Cabe of Canyon; and three grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be George T. Melton, Wayne Porter, Billy Penn, Frank Tirey, Charles Smyrl and Gerald Warwick.

The family will be at the home of Jim Cabe, 2608 9th Avenue.

News Brief

Canyon's 7th grade white and purple football teams lost in games this week to Borger and Dumas.

The white team lost by a 0-14 score to Borger and the purple lost to Dumas by 0-35.

Piano Workshop Cancelled Today

A piano workshop, originally scheduled for today, at West Texas State University has been cancelled due to the illness of the clinician, Carole Walsh.

The announcement of the cancellation was reported by George Eason of the WT music department.

AAUW's Division Officers Here For Workshop Oct. 4

The American Association of University Women Area Workshop October 4 will bring two division AAUW officers to the Panhandle.

Mrs. Faye Maxwell of El Paso serves as division chairman, and Mrs. Leland Best of Beaumont as division topic chairman. They will be the principal speakers at the workshop held in the West Texas State University Activities Center.

Mrs. Maxwell will follow WTSU President Lloyd I. Watkins' welcoming address at 9:30 a.m. with a talk on "Why AAUW". She is a member of numerous civic and professional organizations, including the National Education Association, the Texas State Teachers Association, and the Texas Principals and Supervisors Association.

Mrs. Best will then speak on "What is Program Development." She received her master's degree in education from the University of Houston, and has served as a teacher, principal and counselor. Mrs. Best is also a member of numerous professional organizations.

From 10:30 to 11:10 a.m., Dr. Enid Bates of West Texas State will conduct a get-acquainted session, followed by four topic sessions until noon. The four topic sessions are "Economic Toils of Life: Living with Less," "Society and the Individual: Conformity versus Creativity," "The 21st Century: Deciding Now," and "World Pluralism: The Human Encounter."

A style show on "Making Magic the Caftan Way" will be included with lunch at the WTSU Activities Center Snack Bar.

The workshop will end with a leadership training session for branch officers conducted by Mrs. Maxwell.

The registration fee will be $1, with an extra charge of $2 for lunch. All AAUW members are invited to attend.

Cadette Troop Camps Out At Council Meet

Cadette Troop 54 of Canyon Girl Scouts were involved in a council wide campout at Camp Kiwanis last Friday night and Saturday.

The local troop leader, Mrs. Mario Coleman, supervised the local troop in songs, sporting activities and a bi-centennial skit presentation. Lisa White earned third in the cowchip throwing contest at the campout.

Attending from the Troop were Lisa White, Carolyn Milier, Jana Johnston, Barbara Hudson and Terri Coleman.

Three Wider Opportunity girls from Canyon, Linda King, Becky Wilberforce and Paula Johnston, attended the campout and discussed with the younger scouts the fun and training resulting from summer national events.

Siesta Park Management Changes Hands

By DORIS McKEE

HERE IT IS time once more to put on your specs, get a hot cup of coffee, settle in your favorite chair, and read all the latest happenings out Siesta way.

AT THE TOP of our list this week is the fact that the park has a new owner, manager. We would like to welcome Tom and Jo Fulkerson from Tuscon, Ariz.

The Fulkersons assumed ownership and management on Wednesday, Oct. 1, 1975. Their mobile home will be set up at 140 Siesta and the park rental office will return to the recreation area office.

Tom and Jo have lived in Tuscon for several years and were owner-managers of a mobile home park there. Before moving to Arizona they made their home in the Dallas-Fort Worth area. They have five children, a daughter living in Colorado Springs, Colo., a daughter in Tuscon, a son going to the University of Arizona, a son in Seattle, Washington who is a missionary and a son doing missionary work in Frankfort, Germany.

Oh yes, I also learned that Tom and Jo are both born and reared Texans. Tom originally hails from Tahoka and Jo comes from the small community of Pep. If you are having a problem placing that, it is close to Littlefield. We sincerely hope both of you will like it here in the Texas Panhandle.

In the course of my visit Monday morning with Jo Fulkerson, she did state that Jon Hoffman will remain as the parks Assistant Manager.

PAT REED WAS finally released by her doctor and was able to return to work last week. She works at the front desk in K-Mart and apt as not will be the lady who approves your check.

* * *

ON SUNDAY, SEPT. 21st, Pat and Tex Reed were invited to their son and daughter's-in-law, Skip and Donna Bowes, where they were served a New England boiled dinner. Donna had also baked a cake and decorated it with "Thank You Pat and Tex." This was Skip and Donna's first time to entertain since they had settled in their apartment.

* * *

WE CERTAINLY DON'T want to forget to wish Katie Rinne a very happy, but belated birthday on Sept. 19th. Maybe next year we'll get it done on time.

TALKED TO FAYE Risner on Monday. Seems her daughter Cheri Henson of Amarillo planned and carried out a surprise supper for Faye who celebrated her birthday on Sept. 22nd.

Barry (Cheri's husband) and his folks, Mr. and Mrs. K.L. Henson, were there, also Peck may have attended. Mrs. K.L. Henson baked and decorated the cake.

Faye said, Peck gave her a CB radio for her car.

MARTY HOFFMAN BECAME a teenager last week on Sept. 25th. He had a party on Friday night, Sept. 26th. Those attending were Tod McKee and Dusty West.

For supper they were served BBQ hamburgers and cake and ice cream. They went skating from 7:30 p.m. till midnight and had a ball. Seems they tried very hard to stay up all night, but just could not get past 5:30 a.m.

* * *

ALSO YOURS TRULY turned 29 one more time on Sept. 27th. A very dear friend, Joan Barnett took me to lunch on Friday. I also received a cute card and nice little gift from Diana Hoffman.

Just could'nt get along without good friends.

BARNEY RINEHART AND his brother C.B. Rinehart of Amarillo went on a little fishing trip to Greenbelt last Wednesday and boy oh boy were the fish being cooperative. Seems they caught 50.

That was so encouraging that on Saturday, Barney, his son Bobby, and his son-in-law, Thomas McWilliams, Sr., and a friend, Jack Reeves, went to Greenbelt and tried their luck. This catch counted up to around 110.

Sounds like this was the time and the place for catching those fish.

BARNEY RINEHART'S BROTHER, C.B. Rinehart entered High Plains Baptist Hospital on Monday. We wish him a speedy recovery.

* * *

TOM AND BELANIE McWilliams, Jr., came out Monday and had a nice visit with Tom's grandparents, Eunice and Barney Rinehart. Eunice said they even brought barbeque and the fixings for lunch.

* * *

SEEMS ON THE football report for this week things didn't go too well. Mickey Bays who plays on the 5th-grade team was a little saddened by their loss of 13 to 0 when they played Canyon on Sunday afternoon. That ole football was in the air, on the ground and everywhere, but where it should have been when the 6th-grade boys took on Belmar Sunday.

Tod was very disappointed that our team didn't score. We played to a 0-0 finish. Better luck to you guys next week.

* * *

TALKED TO SHARON Jones the first of this week. She, James, Shannon, Randy and Toni hopped aboard the motorcycles on Sunday and rode over to Hereford. Couldn't have been a prettier day for it.

They visited Sharon's folks, Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Newman and James' folks, Mr. and Mrs. N.R. Jones.

THERE WAS A get-together in the recreation building on Saturday night. C.J. Strayhorn, district manager for Orkin, and his wife, Brenda, had a company get-aquainted party.

* * *

SHARON AND ROSCOE Shipley made a trip to Roswell, N.M. this weekend.

* * *

GUESS IT IS time to cap the ole pen for this week, but will be back next week, so keep on reading.

Thought for this week — "Don't cry over spilled milk, lap it up."

See ya.

Child Care Discussed At Sessions

New ideas on teaching materials for pre-schoolers were discussed at a meeting of the Potter-Randall Childcare Association session Thursday evening.

The meeting conducted by Dianna Pinkert, president, was devoted to workshop information between staff members from Diana's No. 3 in Canyon where the meeting was held and several other daycare facilities from Amarillo including: Diana's No. 2, Forrest Hill, Judy's Early Education, Wesley Community Center, Angelhaven Day Care, Dandy Play School and Small World.

The group voiced disapproval of the new proposed standard for submitting gross monthly income statements by all child day care centers to welfare officials.

They also discussed the "family home care" situation and lent approval to such endeavors where the environment is satisfactory for the care of pre-schoolers and after-school children. The importance of having an adequate staff for such home care facilities was stressed, according to Mrs. Pinkert.

The next monthly discussion for the day care center group will center on nutrition and meal planning ideas for pre-school children. Other officers of the organization include: Judy Czewski, vice president; Nelda Brock, secretary; and Rebecca Elliott, recording secretary.

Phillips Baby Born Sept. 18

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Phillips and six year old son, Robert, announce the birth of a baby girl on September 18 at Tucson, Ariz.

The baby has been named Jennifer Rea and weighed 5 pounds, 6 ounces at birth and measured 19 inches.

The baby's parents, Bill and Shirley Phillips, are both graduates of West Texas State University. The father is employed with Fison Pharmaceutical Company in Tucson.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Guy Miller of Graham and the paternal grandmother is Mrs. Flora Phillips of Canyon.

Peter Breck To Speak On 'Acting' Here

Peter Breck, movie and television actor, will be discussing "acting professionally" with the beginning acting classes of William A. Moore on Friday, Oct. 3.

Breck is the star of the long-running television series "The Big Valley" and is currently in this area for the Amarillo Little Theatre Production of "Mr. Roberts."

His speech to university students will be conducted in the Intimate Theatre of the Fine Arts Building at West Texas State University beginning at 1 p.m. on Friday. Community residents interested in hearing Mr. Breck speak and answer questions about "acting" are invited to the program.

Saddle Award

Acey Lockhart of McKinney won a $550 saddle offered from the Rodeo Club last week at the Tri-State Fair in its drive to raise money for scholarships at West Texas State University.

The Rodeo Club presently anticipates giving three $500 scholarships in 1976. The scholarships will be issued on rodeo performance and academic standing, according to Dr. Doug Williams, sponsor of the club and head of the Agriculture Economics Department.

The Tri-State Fair Board donated $50 on the saddle in appreciation of the club's help during the '75 Tri-State Fair horse shows.

There will be a meeting of the Rodeo Club on Wednesday, October 1, 7:30 p.m. at the Activities Center, Room 126, to discuss upcoming events. President Steve Vandiver urges all members to attend and all NIRA members should be there.
